VBS ON THE FARM Information and Registration:

We are excited to announce a wonderful summer camp opportunity: VBS on the Farm!

VBS on the Farm is a partnership between Prairie Oaks Institute (POI) and Cristo Obrero. POI seeks to be a catalyst of rejuvenation for people and the planet, creating space for renewal and fostering education opportunities around environmental sustainability. Cristo Obrero is a mission of the ELCA, accompanying Latino families with support, and building relationships with neighbors across cultures.

Our goal is to create a nature based, bilingual Vacation Bible School opportunity, giving children space to play in the beauty of nature, build relationships across cultures, and learn that God's love is for everyone.

Online registration is now open!

Registration of Participants:

At the May Council meeting it was decided to start sending the Newsletter to all active households. If you would rather have an electronic copy, please email the church office at office@stjohnbelleplaine.org to get on the newsletter email list.

The Newsletter will also be available on our website as usually.

From Pastor Mark

I love the Summertime. You might see me out bicycling around town or out in the country. I really like to get out on my bike when the weather allows for it. And I really enjoy the opportunity to experience the wonder and the beauty of the world around me as it flows by on my ride.

And that gets me in a mind of thinking about a dear old hymn that I've always loved, "This is my Father's World." The following is an excerpt from a book, "Amazing Grace," that shares the story behind the writing of this old and dearly loved hymn:

"Even though we are constantly reminded of the violence, tragedy, and ugliness in today's world, we can still rejoice that the beauty of nature all around us is ours to enjoy. Who can deny the pleasure that comes from the sight of a glowing sunset or a majestic mountain, the sound of chirping birds or the roar of the surf, and the smell of new mown hay or roses or lilies.

Maltbie D. Babcock (1858 – 1901) revealed his great admiration for nature in this hymn text. Although he was recognized as one of the outstanding Presbyterian ministers of his generation, Dr. Babcock was also a skilled athlete who enjoyed all outdoor activity, especially his early morning walks. He would always comment, "I'm going out to see my Father's world." Since Dr. Babcock was an accomplished performer on the organ, the piano and the violin, we can see why nature seemed to him to be "the music of the spheres." In addition to being a tribute to nature, however, the hymn is a triumphant assertion of the unfailing power of God and the assurance of Christ's eventual reign – "and earth and heav'n be one."

As we follow Dr. Babcock's example and give praise to God for all the beauty of His world, we cannot help being concerned that much of the loveliness is being endangered by human carelessness and greed. The real answer to our ecological concerns must be a renewed appreciation of earth as "our Father's world" and a greater responsibility for taking proper care of it. Christians should be models of this concern.

*"This is my Father's world, and to my list'ning ears, all nature sings and rounds me rings the music of the spheres.
This is my Father's world! I rest me in the thought, of rocks and trees, of skies and seas – His hand the wonders wrought.
This is my Father's world – the birds their carols raise;
the morning light, the lily white, declare their maker's praise.
This is my Father's world! He shines in all that's fair;
in the rustling grass I hear him pass – He speaks to me everywhere.
This is my Father's world – O let me ne'er forget, that though the wrong seems oft so strong God is the Ruler yet.
This is my Father's world! The battle is not done;
Jesus who died shall be satisfied, and earth and heav'n be one."*

July Children's Ministry Update

The month of June passed quickly and so did our week of Vacation Bible School. We had about 20 children ranging from Kindergarten to sixth grade join us for a week of fun and learning. The kids were joined by three AMAZING Camp Onomia counselors and their focus was God's Boundless Love! It was a fun week! We would like to thank EVERYONE who helped make VBS a success this year. People volunteered by making lunch or supper meals for counselors, organizing snacks/lunches for the kids, and checking the kids in each day. A HUGE THANK YOU to the Steinhagen family for hosting all of the counselors at night for the week. Thank you for supporting VBS at St. John!

It does feel like summer just started, but September will be here before we know it. We will be needing more volunteers for Sunday School in the fall to ensure another successful year. If you are interested in volunteering, please email youthsjlc@gmail.com

Please email youthsjlc@gmail.com If you're interested in joining the team. We welcome anyone to the meetings!
